大谷家文書

Handwritten text in Japanese, likely a list or inventory, written in a cursive style. The text is organized into columns and rows, with some entries appearing to be numbered or dated. The handwriting is dense and characteristic of Edo-period Japanese calligraphy.

Handwritten text in Japanese, continuing the list or inventory from the left page. The text is organized into columns and rows, with some entries appearing to be numbered or dated. The handwriting is dense and characteristic of Edo-period Japanese calligraphy.

Handwritten Japanese text in cursive (sōsho) style, organized into columns. The text is written on aged, slightly discolored paper. The columns are separated by vertical lines. The text appears to be a list or a series of entries, possibly related to a collection or inventory. The characters are fluid and connected, typical of cursive Japanese calligraphy. The paper shows signs of wear, including creases and slight discoloration.
